1. OVERVIEW

This international one-stage architecture ideas competition invites all architecture students, young architects and young professionals with a degree in architecture studies ( $\leq 40$  years old) to develop and submit compelling ideas for the design of a Site Temple located at the 'Vera Cruz da Figueira' Fortress, Algarve, Portugal.

The 'Vera Cruz da Figueira' Fortress, isolated on a prominent location, is a powerful natural scenery with sheer cliffs dropping dramatically into the Atlantic ocean. The stone wall traces rise from the landscape and the cliff surface eroded by the wind and water are notable features within this setting.

When generating a vision for an intervention located within such a remarkable place, it is essential that each design proposal emphasises, respects and celebrates the site and existing ruins, while providing a unique and memorable experience.

2. COMPETITION

| Site History

'Vera Cruz da Figueira' Fortress, Algarve, Portugal.

The 'Vera Cruz da Figueira' Fortress, located on the south coast of Portugal, was built in the 17th century as part of the coastal defensive strategy.

In addition to the barracks and a gunpowder house, it had two batteries on uneven platforms, with 4 pieces of artillery. The 1755 earthquake and the instability of the cliff eroded by wind and water led the fortress to ruins. In 1821, with the collapse of the cliff edge, a part of the lower battery fell into the sea. In 1840, the Fortress lost its military significance and was abandoned.

Today, the natural beauty and the memory of the place are unique features within the landscape. Accessible by foot only, the path is made through fields of landscape and rock formations. A stream flows towards the Figueira beach and the wall traces of the 'Vera Cruz da Figueira' Fortress sit quietly and prominently at the top of the cliff.

SITE TEMPLE

The Site Temple is a secluded place to enhance a meditative experience of solitude while stimulating the senses through the elements of light, matter and water; an intimate journey to immerse oneself into silence and profound tranquility.

1. Entrance *

Provide a space of transition between the natural landscape and the 'Inner Space' of the Site Temple; it can be a singular space or a sequence of spaces, open and / or enclosed to the natural elements.

2. Inner Space *

Provide an intimate space for introspection and a platform for meditation; a moment of silence and solitude. An element of water should be included into the design to awaken the senses. This is the main space of the Site Temple and can be a singular space or a sequence of spaces, open and / or enclosed to the natural elements.

3. Landscape / Exterior requirements *

Provide outdoor space/s to capture the history and celebrate the memory of the site while enhancing the sensitive experience of place.

* Areas to be determined by each participant's design proposal.

Total area of the Site Temple to be determined by each participant's proposal.
(suggestion: 60 - 100 m2)

Notes:

The overall design of the Site Temple must be sensitive to the surrounding context. There are no limitations in height, excavation or extension beyond the cliff edges. The existing ruins may or may not be included within the Site Temple design proposal. Spaces of the Site Temple can be combined and / or separated. Because this is an ideas competition, urban planning and building regulations will not be applied to the design proposal.
